A MENTORING AWARD

As the CEO of the disability organisation ON FOCUS, Fiona Miller is passionate about ensuring that all people with disabilities in regional NSW receive the best quality services possible.

In 2012 she was awarded the 2012 inaugural NDS DISABILITY INDUSTRY INNOVATION AWARD, which recognises and rewards excellence in leadership. In 2013 she took part in the ST. VINNIES' COMMUNITY SLEEP-OUT in Casino, NSW, the first female CEO to do so.

Fiona sees the potential in people; she constantly advises and encourages all women, offering positive beneficial information with a feminist approach. She listens and thinks laterally before offering her opinion, she is open to suggestions; she lets people lead and make decisions – then backs them.

Fiona Miller is a quiet achiever who always goes above and beyond the responsibilities of her position. She has made a significant feminist difference for women with disabilities.
